

Summary

Introduction

Partie I

Famille, compagnonnage

1. Re-imagining the “post-bubble” family in Tokyo Sonata and Hush!

Romit Dasgupta

2. Suitably single? : representations of singlehood in contemporary Japan

Laura Dales

3. Accommodating Japan’s ageing sexual minorities: the “family of friends” concept in LGBTI seniors’ residential care

L. Stickland

Partie II old age, women and storytelling

4. The girl-grandmother relation in Japanese children’s literature .

5. Girls, old women, and fairytale families in *The Old Woman’s Skin and Howl’s Moving Castle

Partie III contemporary parenting

6. From model to deviant: conflicting representations of parenthood in the transnational families in Japan and Brazil

7. The role of newspapers in constructing public representations of “monster parents”

Partie IV transnationales Familles

8. Making “traditional” families in transnational settings: Japanese women in Balinese-Japanese marriages

9. Transnational Japanese women and family space in Western Australia .

10. Reconciling migration and filial piety.

11. Épilogue : The family in twenty-first century Japan: between nation and transnation .