

Summary

General Editor's Introduction.

List of Tables.

Maps.

Conventions.

Acknowledgements.

1. Introduction: Why Japan and its Politics Matter.
  2. Historical Background: Japan's Emergence as a Modern State and the Politics of War, 1853--1945.
  3. Social Background: How far Social Norms and Behaviour Influence Politics.
  4. Political Reconstruction and Development, 1945-1989.
  5. One Step Forward and One Step Back: Attempting Political Reform in the 1990s.
  6. New Politics for the New Millennium: The Koizumi Effect.
  7. Who Runs Japan?.
  8. Parliament and Parliamentary Elections: The Changing Character of Electioneering.
  9. The Politics of Party: The Liberal Democrats and their Rivals.
  10. Some Problems of the Constitution.
  11. Issues of Domestic Political Concern.
  12. Issues of Foreign Policy and Defence.
  13. Conclusions: The Analytical Challenge of Japanese Politics.
- Appendix 1: House of Representatives Election Results, 1946-1955.
- Appendix 2: House of Representatives Election Results, 1958-1972.
- Appendix 3: House of Representatives Election Results, 1976-1990.
- Appendix 4: House of Representatives Election Results, 1993-2005.

Appendix 5: House of Councillors Election Results, 11 July 2004.

Appendix 6: House of Councillors Election Results, 29 July 2007.

Further Reading.

Index