

Summary

1. Introduction: Border Agents

2. Chapter 1: Treaty Ports and Traffickers: Children's Bodies, Regional Markets, and the Making of National Space

3. Chapter 2: In the Antlion's Pit: Abduction Narratives and Marriage Migration between Japan and Fuqing

4. Chapter 3: Embodying the Borderland in the Taiwan Strait: Nakamura Sueko as Runaway Woman and Pirate Queen

5. Chapter 4: Borders in Blood, Water, and Ink: Andō Sakan's Intimate Mappings of the South China Sea

6. Chapter 5: Epilogue: Ruptures, Returns, and Re-openings

Bibliography

Index