

Summary

Introduction

Introduction to “International Contemporaneity” and “Contemporary Art”

Proposal for Methodology: “International Contemporaneity” and Beyond

Brief Note on International Contemporaneity

Contemporaneity” as a Geohistorical Concept

Comparing “Similar yet Dissimilar”: Connections” and Resonances

Exploding the Narrative: Contemporaneity and “Narrative Tangents”

Overview of History: The Rise of “Contemporary Art”

Expanded 1960s of Japanese Art

Mainstreaming of the Avant-Garde: Another Post-Yomiuri Story

Discursive Origins of International Contemporaneity in 1960s Japan

Part I. Three in the Wilderness

1. Yutaka Matsuzawa – 1964, Shimo Suwa

The making of “Mr. Psi”: Toward Conceptualism

Transdisciplinary Mind: From Shimo Suwa to New York and Back

Theory and Practice of Psi: Before “Revelation”

Nascent Conceptualism: Apparatus, Operation Manual, Container

Matsuzawa’s Radical Reconstruction of Art

Legend (De)constructed: The Beginning of “Art of Kannen”

Vanishing Acts as “Anti-Civilization”

White Circle: An Exercise in Non-Sensory Painting

2. The Play – 1968, Shionomisaki

Prehistories in the Post-Yomiuri Years

Independent Art Festival in Gifu

Ikemizu Keiichi Was Homo Sapiens

Early Years: A Gathering of Happeners

Into the Wilderness

Launching Voyage

Play's Collectivism

Destinations in Nature Near and Far

3. GUN (Group Ultra Niigata) – 1970, Niigata

Tokyo as A Distant Center: GUN's Early Years

Wilderness Potential: Closing the Distance and Engaging the Social

Stones of the Shinano River: Horikawa Michio's Mail Art

Snow in Niigata: GUN's Land Art

Anti-Military Soldier in Sado: GUN's Political Turns

Part II. Connection & Resonance Studies

Linking Local and Global

Connection Studies – Following Narrative Tangents

Tokyo Biennale 1970 as a Contact Point

Matsuzawa's Communal Internationalism

Language Matters

Play's Happenings Discourse

Gainen (Concept) versus Kannen (Idea)

Resonance Studies

Matsuzawa's Conceptualism Compared

In a Spectrum of Immateriality

Japanese Pioneers: Matsuzawa, Yoko Ono, On Kawara

Land Art: Digging into the Local

Culture of Showing" and Photography

Together in Nature Nearby

Epilogue

Three in the World – 2008 Norwich: Horikawa Michio Paris: The Play

Regrouping in an Open Field

Appendix: Select Translation of Matsuzawa Yutaka's Works

Notes

Bibliography

Index